

Out of This World Radio 1150 AM in Bellevue, Washington

Friday, January 27, 2017

Simon says he hopes with the change of commander in chief the American people will begin to get truthful news; inoculation that injured President Trump's son most probably played a role in U.S. law enforcement raiding a pharmaceutical company and seizing their computers; President Trump wants free trade agreement with Great Britain, Russia, and India; President Trump lifts all trade embargoes on Russia; in order to kickstart America into number one position again President Trump wants to release technology coming from Antarctica, namely antigravity and alternative power to the public; Trump wants new CIA director to replace 500 CIA Nazi Fourth Reich-type employees, and some of the top echelon in big corporations will be invited to go to South America; President Trump would like to do away with the Fed and return to a gold standard and has ordered a gold audit; U.S. has quantum entanglement computer that can work in different dimensions; China has just launched a quantum entanglement satellite most probably to attempt to connect with off-planet races; group of human-like extraterrestrials work with the Chinese but Chinese are pulling away because they want to dominate the world through money; America/Pakistan has Reptilian connection and India/Russia has non-Reptilian connection; is North Korea an extension of China; governments and their money-making side games have existed throughout history; President Trump's Wall is a reminder to big corporations to put America first; Standing Rock pipeline approved but only with steel made in America and since there are no steel plants left in America will pipeline be built; mention of Jim Marrs and his book, "The Rise of the Fourth Reich: The Secret Societies That Threaten to Take Over America"; Simon reads souls and can identify a soul's star family; discussion on difficulties following the spiritual path; speculation on what kind of world our children's children will have; Simon takes opportunity to thank people who donate to him and encourages us to stay strong.

[SIMON INTERVIEW STARTS at 04:34 Hour 2]

Ted Mahr: With that I'd like to go to my friend Simon, Simon Parkes in England. Simon hi, I won't say good morning. Good evening, how are you today?

Simon Parkes: Hello Ted, I'm fine, nine hours between us, I think.

TM: Eight, I think.

SP: Eight hours. I'm eight hours ahead of you.

TM: Yeah, yeah.

SP: So, eight and you're daytime.

TM: If I was closer, I'd be happy to treat you to a cup of coffee there, you know, help keep awake.

SP: That's very kind of you. As you know we British can't make decent coffee.

TM: Well, then tea.

SP: We do make good tea but you guys just throw it in the water all the time.

TM: That's true, that's true.

SP: It's lovely to be back on your show. I always have such a great time when, you know, I'm on your show because I think that the audience that you reach are people who are incredibly awake and aware.

TM: Oh.

SP: That's really important, because at this time on the planet's history, everyone who has eyes to see and ears to hear should really be up and about and, you know, picking it all up. I think that, you know, your show is doing tremendous work so I'm really grateful that you've asked me. I'm very pleased and proud to be on your show, thank you.

TM: Well thank you. Thank you so much Simon. You have a unique perspective that not a lot of other people have, actually. You have a very interesting, I'll just read your, just a brief biography a little bit. You are a life-long experimenter of aliens, shadow people, elementals, and UFOs. These include Mantid/Mantis beings, Draconis Reptilian, Feline, small and tall Grey creatures, crystalline beings and then you write other creatures that can't be identified.

You were an elected politician. Your biological mother worked for the British Security Service called MI5 between 1965 and 1979. While she was managed by British Intelligence, she was also in fact working jointly for the National Security Agency of America. Your grandfather was also a British diplomat, worked for the foreign arm of British Intelligence often called MI6. In this case he also was closely associated with the Central Intelligence Agency. During this time, he was awarded the Order of the British Empire medal as well as the Command of the British Empire medal. However, he turned a knighthood down from the Queen. Your grandfather was also a prominent Freemason and was Britain's appointed diplomat to the United Nations in the late '50 and early '60s. You went public with your story in 2010 and since that time have been giving this incredible information. Simon, I have to ask you, what do you think of what's going on in the world today? I know we spoke a couple of months ago. I think that was just before the election or just after. I think it was just before the election. What do you see now happening from your sources?

SP: Well first of all thank you for that introduction. It was word perfect. You've done your research. There isn't a single interviewer in Great Britain who would be able to string those sentences together and so succinctly explain my history, so thank you for that. That's really great.

TM: Thank you.

SP: No, thank you. Right, you know, you are going out obviously to the world but you are based in the states so I'm going to just give a little bit of news for the stateside listeners. Some of it I think will be known. Some of it won't be known. It's always a great shame to me that the American people until very recently anyway were not receiving truthful news. With the change in the commander in chief, well maybe we'll see some differences. Right, well I wanted just to say that it's not widely known that one of Donald Trump's children was critically injured when they had an inoculation.

TM: Oh.

SP: It's not widely known. Of course, Mr. Trump has a great deal of money and was able to have certain things looked at, and he came to the conclusion that the vaccine that was used was wrong. And again, it is not widely known. This was one of the driving forces why he decided to run for president. He's only been in office now for a week and a bit, but already a very important pharmaceutical head office has been raided that is actually responsible for vaccines in the states. It's been raided by police agencies and their computers have been seized. So, he's acting very quickly on that.

What Mr. Trump wants to do is to create a free trade agreement between the United States, Great Britain, and India, and then added to that Russia. I'm sure you guys may have picked the news up that President Trump has already removed all of the trade embargoes that have been placed on Russia. So, you're going to see a very powerful group of countries, Great Britain, America, Russia, and India, but not China. China is to be kept out.

Also, Mr. Trump, through his connections with his generals and his admirals has agreed that certain, when we say alien technologies... in the industry, they're are called exotic technologies. That's how you guys refer to them at corporate level. Some of those exotic technologies are to be released to the general public.

TM: Fantastic.

SP: Yep. The reason for this is twofold. First is that Mr. Trump wants not to just make America great, but he wants to make America the number one country again. If he was to use fossil fuels, it would take about between seven and ten years to put America back in the top position. However, if he uses hidden technologies, he can do it in eighteen months. So that's the political driver for it.

Now there's another driver going on. I'm sure many of your listeners are aware that in Antarctica there's been some strange movements going on. There's going to be a release of very, very advanced technologies from those underground facilities to both America and Russia. Which means that the exotic technologies that states have had for the last 50 years aren't so exotic anymore. They're the ones that we would pass down through to the corporations to try and kickstart America very quickly. What we're looking at here is a form of antigravity and also a form of alternative power. These are the two things that would make corporate America and citizen America vastly independent of countries like China, so watch out for that.

Now the other thing that is very interesting is that of course Germany as a country lost the war in the 2nd World War, but the Nazis won the war, because they infiltrated the United States. It's very interesting that 500 members of the CIA are to lose their jobs and are to be, well just sacked. And what Trump has told CIA, the new CIA director, is that he can recruit 500 back in, so he's not cutting this. He's just removing what I call the Fourth Reich, SS, the Nazi Fourth Reich.

There's 500 to go, and also the corporations. There are a number of these top Nazis in big American number corporations. They're all planned to go. Now where they're going to go to, you know, there's only a few places above ground where they can go, and we're looking at Argentina, Panama, Brazil and Ecuador, so they are actually going to be given passports and they are going to go there. That would be very interesting to keep an eye on that one.

The other thing is that the big thing that nearly, well did, cost President Kennedy his life and we hope it won't cost Donald Trump his, is that Trump wants to do away with the Fed. What Trump wants to do is to return to the gold standard and again it's not widely known that President Trump has ordered an audit, a gold audit, all the gold held by government agencies in the United States. Also, a gold audit of all the gold held by private individuals or people like the Bushes, and then he's going to see whether there's enough gold to return to a 1927, as it were, gold standard. If there isn't, then he's going to try and return to a silver standard, so back the money with precious medals. So, watch for that. Also, they are going to be pushing the Bitcoin, but so are the Chinese so there's a bit of a trade war to go on there.

The only other last thing I wanted to say was about quantum entanglement. This is a very exotic computer that can work in different dimensions. The United States have had it for a while. In fact, some of the telescopes in the United States that look up to the stars have quantum entanglement software which allows them to decode certain things. The Chinese have just launched their very first quantum entanglement satellite, which means they are attempting to connect with off planet races, ones that they don't already know. So just from the state side that was just a little bit that your president has been in for only a short period of time, but my goodness me, he has set so much in action that he will have done more than President Obama did in his entire eight years of office. So, this guy, whether you love him or hate him, he is dismantling the old establishment, and I think that's a good thing.

So, to go back to your question, I just had to get that out of the way. Basically I agree with President Obama's [Trump?] new ambassador to the European Union that within twelve months to eighteen months there will not be a European Union and the European currency will just collapse. I certainly believe that there is a financial hiccup or a backfire on the way. We're certainly are going to see the house market hit. We are going to see the stock exchange go down. That's not just me saying it. We've got insiders within the industry, i.e., the stocks and bonds market basically saying that, you know, it's 1929 all over again.

So, it's not to be feared. It's not about being scared or frightened. It's saying that the human race has to go through this to come out on the other side and be stronger, and this is an exciting time. It's not a time for fear, but it is a time of challenge. So, you know, all eyes on America. It is the most important country in the world, and it's living up to its name. So, you know, it's exciting.

TM: You have just given some incredible information Simon. Really interesting. I wanted to ask you, I know that, I've heard anyway that perhaps you told me this before, a couple of months ago that there are different extraterrestrial races working with different governments here on the planet.

SP: Yes.

TM: And I was just curious. I think you mentioned this before but which ET groups are working with the Chinese?

SP: Right. It's very interesting, for the listeners who perhaps are not overly familiar with me. I did set up an organization that doesn't have any offices. It doesn't have any bank managers. It's just groups of people throughout the planet who work together, and my organization is called Connecting Consciousness. One of my coordinators in the states actually had the chance for five minutes of talk to President Trump.

TM: Really.

SP: Yes, it was at a party. She was there with a friend of a friend, you know. So, she wasn't there as a person, you know, standing within that political framework. She was there as a guest, and she had the chance to talk to him and she just obviously told me that in the small conversation she had, she was able to bring up the reality of alien. She said that he didn't bat an eyelid. That's a very British term. What she was telling me was that he was fully informed. He knew about aliens. He had no problem with them at all. Now that's very important because, and I am answering your question Ted, in a round-about way. If a guy goes in to take office and he already knows, then he can hit the ground running and start asking questions. If someone goes in to a government and doesn't know about aliens and then they get a briefing, they're always on the backfoot.

TM: Right.

SP: So, what will happen is that he won't have much to do with the Reptilians who up till now were an offshoot of the Anunnaki have been advising the Democrat administration, and before then the Republican administration. So you see, I don't look on Donald Trump as a Republican. I would look on Donald Trump as Donald Trump. Donald Trump is not, you know, he is just Donald Trump. So, he actually will go with who he thinks will give America the best deal, simply because he is a businessman. So, we've got in America, you've got this entrenched Vatican control system, which is Anunnaki/Draconis Reptilian, which Mr. Trump won't really want to talk to. You've got the Chinese who have been playing a double game. They've got the same, but they've also got other more human off-planet entities that they've been talking to.

But unfortunately, the problem with the Chinese is that they want world domination through money. And you know you've got head to head with the states, so what's happening there is that China is going to look in on itself and will not now take so much advice from off-planet entities. They are going to try and fall back on their own culture which is tremendous. It's many, many thousands of years culture. But they start to look to themselves and develop their own markets, and they won't play the political game anymore, so I think as a driving force, we can take China now out of the equation. Which means that off-planet entities will now be looking for up and coming countries to try to influence them,

So, your number one target here is India. In the next seven years India has the potential to outstrip China in production, and so I would think that the battleground in terms of control of the government in India between off-planet entities will start to shape up quite quickly. Russia of course has a Nordic race which is broadly beneficial to humanity. The Israeli government has an off-planet connection which is not very helpful. So, every, not just every major country, but little Norway, a tiny little country, has a very strong connection. So, most countries have a ticket, if I can use that word, a hotline through this off-planet entities, so China is actually going to drop out of the equation very soon.

TM: Interesting. What a fascinating prospective. And India itself, do you know who India has been working with Simon?

SP: They haven't. That's the interesting thing. You see if you look back, what was called the Vedas, the old work, they talk about spaceships and in their terminology it was Vimanas. We're looking at documents that are in excess of six thousand years old.

TM: Right.

SP: So, they've always had a very, very, strong connection, but in recent years it seemed to have dropped away. I think that's going to pick up, so what I'm broadly hopeful, it'll be the same group that's been advising President Putin. I would like to see that.

TM: Um-hum. And in the past, I know I lived in India actually for about two-and-a-half years. Love the culture, love the people, and it was the place Simon where I learned about karma and reincarnation.

SP: Right.

TM: And it was an amazing experience back in the '80s and '90s. What I was going to ask you is, I know during that time India had defense contracts with Russia. Russia was helping them.

SP: Yes.

TM: And are there, I assume that there... are the relations quite still good between India and Russia?

SP: Yes, because you see the Americans supported Pakistan and India was supported by Russia.

TM: Oh yeah, okay.

SP: So, you had a Reptilian connection with America and Pakistan and a non-Reptilian connection between India and Russia. So, it's been going for a very long time. General Zia who was the dictator, the military dictator of Pakistan. during the Bushes. was quite well up with Reptilian connections. So, I think what we'll see is India being more open to connections with Russia in the sense that in the past this all had to be done under the carpet because nobody wanted to be at the scene sitting around talking to the Russians. Well that's all going to change now and the Russians actually are going to come out of the cold and will be seen to be sitting around the tables. You are going to find all of these Western leaders, (who two days ago were waving their hands and saying, you know, Russia is the devil), all now queuing up to sit around the table with President Putin to try and sign a trade deal.

That is the hypocrisy of so many politicians on this planet. You know, they don't actually believe what they say. They'll just do whatever they think either gets them reelected or lines their own pockets. You know, and it's not just me. There have been many of us who have been saying, look, I'm not saying that President Putin is a good man. But I'm on record as saying he was the right man at the right time, and he's done amazing work for his own people. I did a conference last year, and I put out some statistics, which showed how he had more than quadrupled the pension for senior citizens.

TM: Really!

SP: Yes, how the average had gone up three times, four times. You know, and that of course has not been reported by the Western press. But we need to say why does President Putin keep getting reelected? He keeps getting reelected because he's doing something good for the majority of the people in Russia. You know, Western leaders need to remember that they are supposedly democratic and they elect[are elected], so why is it okay for them to be elected by Britain or America and then say something bad about someone[Putin] who is elected by their own people?

So, we are going to see a balancing of the energies over the planet. I think we are going to see some people who have, another British term here, nailed their colors to the mast. In other words, they've declared for all intents and purposes and all for all time, this is what I believe. Suddenly you are going to see a complete change of face because they realize they are on the losing side. And people, citizens, aren't stupid. They'll see through that. I'm just pleased that I and others who have been saying, you know, the things that were coming for the last five years, it's now playing out. And it means that it is playing out on a road map that is broadly supportive of humanity, which is really good. So, I'm glad at the way things are going by and large.

TM: Beautiful, beautiful, well that's really good news Simon. I have to ask you a question about North Korea. Is North Korea basically an extension of what China does? Are they kind of a loose cannon?

SP: I tell you what the best analogy I can give is a wayward child of disorganized parents. That's how I would look at North Korea. North Korea goes running off on its own and only when it starts talking about firing missiles does the senior parent then sort of pull it in. In other words, it is allowed to have independence because there is a lot of money laundering going on through North Korea. That's the first thing. You know, when China got Hong Kong from Great Britain that was seen as the way that money would be laundered.

TM: Oh, okay.

SP: That was the main point for all this, but it's through, it's gold... that's laundered through North Korea. The gold doesn't go through Hong Kong.

TM: Really!

SP: So that's why China, yeah well that's what all the.... think about all the wars that you guys and we've had in Korea and in Vietnam. That was all about gold hidden in caves. So North Korea has a role to play and as long as it doesn't step outside of its role, then China will continue to support it. There's also what we call the White Dragon and Red Dragon Societies. There's a very strong traditional dragon base in North Korea, so there's a cultural connection there.

TM: Um-hum, wow, fascinating. I don't mean to jump to, to switch gears now, but I was curious...

SP: You can do whatever you want. It's fine, you just go with it.

TM: Well thank you, my friend. I'm curious about the... it's been said, it's been rumored for years here in the United States that a lot of drugs are brought in illegally of course into the country. That's one. of the reasons some people think why we don't, we have such a porous border with, southern border with Mexico. Mr. Trump has indicated that he is going to build a wall. I'd love your opinion on that.

SP: Well there's plenty of video evidence on YouTube of a number of testimonies in the court where I can't remember the name now, but they actually won against the CIA or the FBI. I think it was the CIA actually, where they secured some compensation. They were able to show that money and drugs were being dealt with by the CIA for insiders. It's incredibly well known, but for most hard-working honest

American citizens, it would be an absolute shock that one arm, let's be quite clear, it's not everybody, one arm of an intelligence agency is running a very lucrative game. But you see, the British did this in Afghanistan. It was opium, the opium fields before that, what we call the East India Company.

TM: Oh, yeah.

SP: The East India, but it was a private company that traded around the world, and that's what governments do. They sit up agencies at arms length, so if they get caught then the government doesn't necessarily get caught with it.

And they, you know, in England we had a wonderful queen called Queen Elizabeth I and she had a very interesting chap called Drake and he was the guy who beat the Spanish in the Spanish Armada when the Spanish tried to invade us. Drake set off with his ships and he had a battle and he beat the Spanish. Drake used to go to see Queen Elizabeth I and it was all done unofficially, and basically, he would attack Spanish galleons carrying gold, and you know he would split the bounty with the Queen, but nobody knew that.

That's what governments have always done. They use agencies to do their dirty work for them, so I'm not at all surprised that it's an industry that's still going and it doesn't just come through like that. It comes through other ways. But what Mr. Trump is doing, it's not just about that. What he's doing is, he's saying that the best way to put pressure on corporations in United States to come home, back to America, is to put a very physical barrier. Which is a reminder to every board of the big corporations that unless they put America first, they could find themselves out in the cold. So, it's more a symbolic gesture to business to start investing in America. It was a very clever move.

TM: He made a decision. He signed an executive order actually a few days ago. On one hand he approved the pipeline at Standing Rock in North Dakota Simon, but on the other hand in that same order, he required that the pipeline be built totally with American-made steel.

SP: Right. Yeah.

TM: I was talking to my friends about it yesterday, and we realized I don't think there's any U.S. steel plants that are actually available here in the United States. So, in effect, he's approved the pipeline, but the pipeline can't be built until there's a steel plant here in this country. They've all been shipped to China and other countries. So, in effect, the pipeline at Standing Rock cannot be built.

SP: Your country is very different from mine. The way the laws work in this country an individual at that level can't get involved. It doesn't work like that in this country. There's always a [32:01][unintelligible] or a group of people that you pass it to, but you see your country doesn't work like that, and in effect the president on all domestic issues like that can really hold things up.

What he's done actually, is he's signed it off to say that the White House doesn't have a problem with it. Now that on the face of it makes him look very, very, bad, but if you actually understand the government, what he's done is he's said it's got to go to the courts. So, he's actually saying that I don't want politicians making the decision on this. I want the courts to decide it, so that's where it's going to go now. You are going to have the oil company on one side and the environmentalists on the other, and it will be judges that will now decide. You are absolutely right Ted. He said that he would only step in and hold it up if the metal for the pipeline was not being produced in the United States, and you're right. To my knowledge there isn't anything being fabricated in the states at the moment. Now, you know, if somebody wants to open up a factory to produce piping, it'll take them twelve months to do that.

TM: Right.

SP: So, in effect the oil company may now withdraw from the case because if they feel that they do not have the logistics to produce this, they won't do it. And again, it's a very clever move because what you have to understand is that when Mr. Trump stood for election, he said I'm bringing jobs to America, which he is doing. What's happening here is he's saying well yeah, you know, if the steel for the pipe is made in America that's American jobs. So that's what I promised you guys. So, he's not breaking any of his promises. What he's doing is he's making it damn near impossible for the pipeline to go ahead. That's actually for a businessman, which he is, he is showing he's a very astute politician.

TM: Oh yeah, very, very, astute. I'm sure you know of this gentleman Simon, but his name is Jim Marrs, and he'll also be giving a presentation at my conference in March along with you as well. Of course, Jim has written, (a famous American journalist from Texas), he has written a book. I believe it's called "The Rise the Fourth Reich," where he talks, (we're changing subjects again), but where he talks about, talks about the influence of these, he calls them Nazis in American government. What you said here about twenty minutes ago about 500 members of the CIA will lose their jobs and many will also leave top corporations, which I thought just fascinating.

SP: I've never met Jim. I've read some of his books. I think he's a very genuine man. I think he's truthful. I think that what he talks is absolute[ly] correct.

TM: Right.

SP: And yes, it would be lovely to share a platform with him.

TM: Yeah, yeah, a very, very, interesting fellow and there's a, you know you are incredibly interesting fellow Simon. You also do soul readings, where you are able to identify an individuals soul, a star family background.

SP: Yes.

TM: And I think I may have asked you that before. You did, I did ask you. You said I was originally from Arcturus, but came to Pleiadians, who then incarnated in this density to try to raise consciousness. I do remember that, yeah.

SP: Yes, because you were interesting because you have had multiple experiences. In other words, generally when a soul is created and I do believe in God. God creates all life. I don't have a problem with that at all. Then that soul generally stays as it is and then goes about and reincarnates and, you know, has experiences. But sometimes when we either are drawn to a task or a mission or we volunteer, we need training. If you are a human or human type, as you are the only place, or the place of choice is the Pleiadian group. You don't have to be from the star family, but you would go there because it's the best training that a human can get for the battle on this planet in terms of, you know, surviving and keeping your sovereignty. So in your case your energy signature shows me more than one group. But although I've said that, there is an element, I've got to be careful here, but there is an element of you which remains hidden; because you are incredibly powerful and you are in excess of the 9th dimension. And so that had to be hidden, certainly when you were younger because there were very negative people about. So yeah, you are an incredibly interesting person.

TM: Well thank you. Thank you, Simon, I appreciate you telling me that so much. I know I have an affinity to the Pleiadians. When you said before on my show some months ago that I started out in Arcturus in the 6th dimension, and then came down to the Pleiadians in the 5th dimension to learn how to be, the skills to be human, and then came down to Earth from there to raise consciousness. That was just fascinating.

SP: I don't go back on that, but what I've just added to that, is saying that if you look at yourself prior to your human form, then you would have inhabited a body that was not biological. So you're, if you trace yourself right back, then you're an incredibly high being. This isn't about hierarchy. It's not about A is better than B, but it's about saying that in your case your connection is through consciousness. So if you think of a grain of dust blowing in the solar wind in some star constellation; that grain of dust in a way that perhaps we don't fully understand can communicate with a passing asteroid or a sun or another grain of dust, and it's consciousness that exists through all of the multidimensions. Many, many, people have a lifetime that can be traced back before they entered a biological body. So I believe that you are one of those. That is why you do the work you do and that is why relatively you are unharmed by all of the negativity that's around you.

TM: Oh well thank you Simon. I appreciate you saying that so much. That helps me answer some questions. I know I ask for protection both for my spirit family and also my Galactic Alliance friends every day, to help with the work and they have actually, the Galactics have actually assigned, depending on where I go and what I'm doing, I ask them for protection and they assign generally three to five ships, sometimes more and I can clearly see them at night. At our conference last year in Olympia in June you could see the Galactic ships during the day, very plainly during the day.

SP: Well that is a symbol to any, at that time, any military negatives and to... it's not solely as a fairground ride...

TM: I see.

SP: ...for people in the conference. That is, look if you were going to run a show with lots of people coming, there will be negatives in the military and the industrial complex who will want to come and cause trouble. You might overflying by military aircraft et cetera, et cetera, so the best way to keep a no-fly zone over something like that is to stick some ships that come out of the infrared cloaking so they're in visible light, which means they are going to appear on radar so that the elites know they're there. Then it's a message to just keep away. So that's really why they are doing that. So, you're absolutely right. It's a protection and they do it deliberately. And it's a nice show for people at the conference, but that's not actually why they are doing it. They're doing it there to make sure the conference can go ahead and not be sabotaged.

TM: That's, wow, thank you so much Simon for saying that. I know that when I flew to Italy a couple of weeks ago, I went to visit Damanhur, which is a spiritual community in the Alps near Turin and Milano, I could see the craft outside my flight from Vancouver to Amsterdam very clearly and then when I got to Damanhur they were there again, a very distinctive ship. There's about five or six points of light with a brighter light in the middle of it.

SP: Right.

TM: Yeah, I'm able to communicate with them telepathically, and I'm always thanking them for being here.

SP: Well, it doesn't surprise me at all. I'm really glad that you came into your power, that you understand who you were, that you didn't allow this 3D system to convince you otherwise. So many people start off on the right track and then they just get sucked in to the same old world chasing the dollar or the type of world we have to grow up in and they have to lose their gifts. Well you never did, did you? You stayed true to what you knew you had to do so that's a success story, because not everybody who comes here stays on the right path.

TM: Well thank you Simon. I appreciate you saying that so much. It's taken a lot of effort but, and I always knew when I was a kid that there was something beyond this 3D reality. I always did. I come from a psychic family so it's easy for me. I learned how to develop the gifts to talk to the other side, but there's just so much beyond what we can actually see and a lot going on.

SP: Yeah, but Ted to you, you see, the veil is very thin between this world and the others and [42:27][unintelligible], so you have always been aware to feel, to sense, to know, whereas other people, it's very hard to do that, and for most people, they've convinced themselves that they can't do it because the education system, universities and colleges, have told them that they can't do it.

TM: Right.

SP: Now you never listened to that.

TM: No.

SP: You listened to yourself.

TM: That's right, I did. I did.

SP: Yes.

TM: And I thought they were crazy. They thought I was crazy.

SP: Well you were spot on. You were absolutely right. They are crazy.

TM: Uh-hum, uh-hum, uh-hum. One of the things I was told last year, to always follow your heart mind. In other words, you have a brain, you know, you have a 3rd dimensional logical process, but instead of basing decisions on that, always follow your, I was told to always follow your heart mind because you'll always reach a correct decision.

SP: Yes. I can't argue with that at all.

TM: Well in your own life Simon, has it been difficult for you as well to follow this spiritual path?

SP: I think sometimes we have to walk a path to decide whether it's what we want to do or not. Occasionally we have decided on a path and we're just going to follow it no matter what.

TM: Sure.

SP: Like the fool on the Tarot card who has one foot on a cliff and then one foot on nothing, because he's so confident he's assuming he's right that that gives him the strength to what seems to be... do the impossible. The world we live in is a physical world, and much of the work we do doesn't revolve around that. So, I've always said it of many people that we live in two worlds. We live in the world that we exist in everyday as we ought to. But we also have this knowledge of another world, which requires a different sort of interaction, and the skill is being able to switch between a normal, you might be sitting eating a meal; you might be out on the trolley bus you might be, you know, doing what have you. That is a 3D world and you have to fit in and you have to survive and you have to get on and make friends. But you also have to do exactly the same in the other world. And sometimes it's difficult to switch between the two. So yeah, I've had problems, absolutely.

TM: Uh-hum, uh-hum. I wanted to ask you this. We've got about 9 or ten minutes left Simon and I so appreciated talking to you today. You have so much wisdom and so much information to share. If humanity makes the right choices in the coming years, what kind of world do you think we'll have for our children and children's children?

SP: You know that's a really good question. Nobody has asked that question before. Or if they have, they haven't done it so properly. Many, many, people, and I'm sure lots of your listeners will know, they've heard people say, ooh I'm glad I'm not twenty. I'm glad I'm not, you know, having children, or, you know, or oh what a horrible world this is.

TM: Right.

SP: Actually, this is the most exciting time to have a child because anybody of our generation or growing up now will have a knowledge of the world as we don't want it to be.

TM: Right.

SP: The world we're in at the moment has a control system which is frankly quite wrong. It's archaic and primitive, and anyone who grows up now will have the most beautiful experience, because they will see how it is and how it can be. In my country in 1971 we changed our coinage. We went from coins that we had had for hundreds of years when we joined the European Union to some horrible little tinny coins. But I experienced that and I remember in the morning of the day of the changeover going to the shop to buy something. It didn't matter what it was. You just, you know, got some change and you had the new coins. Now it's momentous, you know, to be able to say that I was alive during these critical years and people will look back, because they don't realize it now, but books are going to be written about this time, how human consciousness changed and the bad guys couldn't really stop it. They could slow it down but they couldn't stop it. So, it's going to be, the world will be the same, the clouds and the trees, all of that is beautiful, but the way it's governed, that is going to change.

TM: Uh-hum.

SP: And it's going to change for the better. Because human consciousness cannot be stopped. It can be slowed down. That's what the negatives have done but the human will is indomitable. It will succeed. And, you know, that's what made America great, because they'll do something, go up there and be something special, and many countries lost that. They, look, think of the ancient Romans, it was the greatest empire ever. Then come Second World War, God bless them, the Italian troops weren't much good. So, countries that swing and roundabout and what's happening in America is it's coming back to be great. So, I think it's a great time to be around.

TM: I have to tell you Simon during the time you've been on I've been so focused in on your interview that I looked around now and there's this beautiful white light here in the studio that's come in while you've been talking, and I know my angel friends are very, very, happy with you being on the program.

SP: That's nice, that's nice. We need all the help we can get down here.

TM: That's true, that's true. Well I wanted to tell you, you know, I'm sure you know that you found this too that white light is always stronger than the dark and this planet I've been told Simon is slated for ascension into the higher dimensions. And sure, the negative entities may try to slow it or stop it, but they won't be able to stop it. They can slow it down maybe, but it's inevitable, and as they used to say on "Star Trek," resistance is futile, so...

SP: I mean there's a good chance because I've got an access now to your American audience and many people who donate to me are American, and it's a good chance for me to say thank you to them. I have a British radio show and what I do, I read out twenty first names to people who've donated. It doesn't matter whether it's one dollar or twenty dollars, I just read them out just to say thank you, just their first names. I'm not going to do that tonight but I want to, all those who went onto my website and hit the donate button, thank you, and I want to explain why it's there because...

TM: Well could you, pardon me Simon, but could you please give out your website so people could...

SP: Oh, it's just simonparkes.org

TM: Okay. Okay, great. simonparkes.org

SP: And basically, I gave up the day job. I gave up the day job to do this and the problem at the moment with the control system, is that if you have a what we call a standard job, then you are controllable. I've done day jobs. I was a driving teacher, and I loved it. I taught, you know, kids to drive, and not just kids, some very old people to drive, and that was wonderful to give people a skill. I've done lots of things, but when you are on a job like that, somebody can say to you, listen I heard you on the radio the other day and we don't really like what you're saying, and unless you stop it, we're going to sack you. Now that's the control people have, so I left all that, and people donating to me allow me to do what I'm doing now, which is talk about things that many people don't want me to talk about. It gives me the independence to be what I am. So, to all of those Americans or Canadians or whoever you are who have donated I just say thank you.

TM: Beautiful, beautiful, beautiful. By the way for those who are just tuning in this is Ted Mahr with Out of This World Radio. We are interviewing a fascinating gentleman named Simon Parkes coming to us live by Skype from England. We've got about, Simon, we've got about three or four minutes left and I wanted to mention that to you because I wanted to give the rest of the time to wrap up your beautiful interview and any thoughts on maybe if people ask you, how can we make this planet a better place. Perhaps you could give my listeners some advice about that.

SP: During the next few months many things are going to happen, which will seem on a physical traditional sense, scary, frightening. That is because the energy attached to it is negative. What I would say to people is reject that. Understand that it's an experience. When something happens to us, what do we do? Do we choose to run away from it, pretend it didn't happen? Do we face it and deny it or do we face it and say what can I learn from this? How can I change?

So, don't think that experiences that come to you or to the planet are in themselves negative. It's about how you deal with it. So when something occurs, I want your listeners to be strong, and people who are listening to this will be spiritual of course and they're awake and I'd ask you to support those people who are not yet awake. Don't say, well you had your chance. You know, you should have listened to me. I want you to say, look the hands of the clock are one minute to midnight. There's still a chance for you to realize what's going on.

I want people who are spiritual to become leaders, to form groups, form little groups in your communities, support yourselves. That's what Connecting Consciousness is about, getting people to link and work together. This planet is one of the most precious beautiful places of existence anywhere, and I mean when I say anywhere it's the multiverse. We don't appreciate how fantastic this place is and [we're] so honored and gifted and loved to actually be live in a physical body down here so fight to protect what's right. So that's what I want to say really.

TM: Beautiful, beautiful, what wonderful words of wisdom. Well Simon I wanted to thank you so much again for coming on today. What is your website again so people can...

SP: simonparkes.org.

TM: Wonderful. And Simon of course will be at my Galactic Wisdom Conference March 10, 11, 12 giving a presentation, and for people interested in registering for the event please go to www.galacticwisdomconference.com, and it will be updated with the new schedule and some more information about the speakers over the weekend. And with that Simon I just want to thank you so much for coming on today. I've learned so much from you as always.

SP: God bless to you and God bless to all your listeners.

TM: Okay, thank you so much Simon. Take care.

[END OF SIMON INTERVIEW 54:28 2nd Hour]

Transcribed by GSC June 25, 2019

Proofread by C. Hess January 1, 2020