

Connecting Consciousness on Wolf Spirit Radio

Brief Message from Simon on Vacation

A message from Simon. I'm sorry I can't be with you all. I'm taking four days off for a vacation. I'm not out of the country. I'm just spending some time doing the things I seldom get a chance to do, like collecting fossils, which is my passion. I wanted to update you on some developments. There was a terrible fire at the Tower Block. It was built in 1974, the same year Hollywood released the film, The Towering Inferno. I am of the opinion there is more to this than meets the eye. It has to do with harvesting energy and using it to manipulate or at least extend time. I'm looking for charges of corporate manslaughter. The British Prime Minister is being gotten ready to resign but not until the power men have a replacement lined up. She is making mistake after mistake. Much like Hillary Clinton she is finished and the elite want her out but only when it suits them. Bitcoin is finished as a world leader in trading virtual currency. President Trump is being advised of the possibility of an assassination attempt in October.

Oh yes indeed you are listening to Wolf Spirit Radio, and it's just me today, and this is probably going to be the shortest ever Connecting Consciousness Show.

Since Simon is not here, all you have is Jay Pee. My middle name is Simon but that's not ... to it, so I have a message from Simon. He's away. He's exhausted. As you can imagine, you know he's worked, and he's kind of overworked really trying to hold up the one-man band that is Connecting Consciousness, so here's a message from Simon. He has gone away on holiday, yeah, not on a plane, but just somewhere where he likes to be, doing things that he likes to do, a bit of chill out, so here is the start of the message.

There was a terrible fire at the Tower Block. It was built in 1974, the same year that Hollywood released its film, The Towering Infernal. I'm of the opinion that there is more to this than meets the eye. This is to do with harvesting energy and using it to manipulate or at least extend time. I'm looking for charges of corporate manslaughter.

The British Prime Minister is being gotten ready to resign, but not until the powermen have had a replacement lined up. She is going away as [did] Hillary Clinton and as much as she is making mistake after mistake, she is finished and the elite want her out, but only when it suits them.

Bitcoin is finished as a world leader in trading virtual currency.

President Trump is being advised of the possibility of an assassination attempt in October.

JP: That is the end of today's message from Simon.
