

Connecting Consciousness Podcast with Simon Parkes

Recorded Saturday, May 09, 2020

The ill-timed release of Covid-19 in China that was meant to be released and wreak havoc in the U.S. hasn't gone quite as planned, so the bad guys have a new plan, a mandatory vaccine to be given to every human on the planet, probably best to avoid if you want to preserve your health and remain human; financial reset might come when governments decide not to pay back all the free money they are giving out; Questions: if we take the Microsoft 06 06 06 nanochip will we stay in the Luciferian construct forever; has Boris and the Queen been replaced; why is St. George Slaying the Dragon on 5G Bioshield sticks; what were the energy bands that attacked my heart chakra; was Covid-19 injected into people through the flu vaccine in the past year and triggered by 5G and/or some other means; did Britain get a more severe strain of the Covid-19 than other countries; is Boris going to force mandatory vaccinations on everyone in the UK; Miles Johnson talks about rainbow pictures with inverted colors when compared to the chakra colors and thousands of clapping hands at 8:00 o'clock p.m. in the UK, what is the meaning of this; do indictments really exist and are they being acted upon; will spaceships come and take us off Earth when Planet X does a flyby; what do you mean by acting when the time arrives and what can we do in the meantime; does the fact that Boris is promoting vaccines mean the black hats have control over him; have the white hats neutralized many black hats and/or organizations; Simon are you considering flying to the USA; how do developing countries fit into Cabal control; if a large group meditates together can we prevent 5G from working; what is the difference in intent between the Earth Alliance and the Federation; is the absence of Simon's updates because he has been told to keep quiet; does alcohol affect your ability to connect with Source; is the fact that I'm living in a "smart" flat have anything to do with seeing crystalline large spiders running across my bedroom wall.

Simon Parkes: Hello and welcome to another Connecting Consciousness update. It's the 9th, and if we're lucky and hopeful, this should go out tomorrow on a Sunday at the 10th. So you know, it's been again a very very difficult and trying week or weeks for a number of people, most of us I suppose. The information is sort of coming thick and fast and we're having to struggle to try and decide what we think is truthful or accurate and what we, you know, feel that we should be closely connected with, so I'm just going to keep it fairly short today because we haven't done a, what I call a proper podcast for a while, and we've got quite a few questions, so I said to Becky that, you know we'll try and get through as many as we can today, which means limiting my updates, but I guess the questions which I'm sure will be topical will allow me to bring in those updates through the answers I give to those questions, so reduced update section, but trying to bring the updates out through the questions that have been asked.

However, I do want to very quickly and just mention a couple of things. One really is the vaccine situation. Quite rightly all of us have been on the alert for this, but there was something I wanted to bring to everyone's attention, that the initial release of the virus in China was not planned. I don't care what anyone might tell me, it wasn't planned. It was planned for the U.S. It was designed primarily to bring down the President of the United States and to destroy the economy of the United States. That's why there wasn't a vaccine ready to go. Think of the key players in this who we know would love to sell trillions of dollars of vaccine and all the difficulties that would come to those who took that vaccine. The issue here is that if this was all planned and organized, those vaccines would have already been ready to roll, ready to make trillions of dollars, but the point for this was to release it in the U.S., not in China, to cause so much mayhem and destruction and not to come forward with a vaccine, because to come forward with a vaccine within a few months of that would have mitigated the damage which could have meant that President Trump could have won his re-election. So the plan always was to bring forward a vaccine but not to bring it forward until later on in the year or even next year, by which time the president would have lost the election, the economy would have been in destruction, and so on, but because it was released in China, which gave the good guys some time to start taking action, that meltdown and the removal of the president did not occur. So that means that the bad people now are rushing to do the vaccine because it's their only option open to them. They didn't get the first thing, which was remove the president. They didn't get the second thing which is linked, which is the destruction of the economy in the U.S. Now they've got the vaccine. They want to use that because they didn't get the first two, so that is why nobody has suddenly jumped up and said we've got a vaccine, okay? So it's very important for me to try and get this message across, that the plan to release it in China was not the original plan. All right, so that was quite important for me.

People are also asking what we used to call the financial reset. How can there be a reset, and I'm going to just put out there a very intriguing possibility. I don't know about other countries so much, but the United States, in terms of its money that it's paid out, and Britain, I know other countries have, but these are what we would jokingly call eye-watering sums of money which the government had pledged to either for individuals or businesses or organizations. How about if those governments have no intention of paying that back? How about if there's no intention to return that money? In other words, it's printed or electronically created, but how about if so what, so what? We've created three trillion, four trillion, five trillion. I'm not gonna pay it back, so that's a very interesting possibility, and it's one possible (smile) why certain leaders in certain countries have been quite free and easy to give away money and not too bothered about the future, so that's one thing that might be worth looking at.

Okay I want to just sort of go straight on now to the questions. So hello Becky and thank you very much.

Rebecca Parkes: Okay thank you. The first question is from Debra in Canada and Debra says Hi Simon and Becky, thank you so much for all of us and I stand with you, for doing so much for all of us and I stand with you. Simon could you please comment on the 666 Mark of the Beast at the end times, not trying to sound too biblical. I watched a video lately that was about the good and evil struggle we're in now, but at the end of this we will be made to decide whether to take the nanochip or bar code or the Nesara/Gesara money, and if we don't it sounds like we won't have much of a life if any. The Microsoft patent for the new interactive nanochip has the number or hash tags of 06 06 06 in it. This video made it clear that if we take the money or nanochip we opt to stay in this Luciferian construct forever. It is not clear how we transition from Trump to this end, very very important decision. Thanks again for all you do.

SP: All right thank you. Thank you for the question. You're referring to the book of the New Testament, the last chapter or book called Revelation which talks about the Mark of the Beast and the number 666. For many years people took it as being a very literal description of individuals succumbing to a particular type of belief, or you know, some sort of emblem or mark that would do it, and they didn't really think, the general public didn't really think that those three numbers would really appear. Even clergymen were of the opinion that this was just some, you know, emblem or mark of Satanism. However, if we look at the Satanic culture, there's a great deal of prophecy, a great deal of fulfillment of that, and the three numbers are very important to them. The zero between it is to connect it to artificial intelligence, okay? That's why it's not just three sixes. It's like a binary code, so it's to link it to artificial intelligence. There are a group of people on this planet who are absolutely determined to play out the prophecy, to make it happen. Their belief is that unless these prophecies are followed to the letter they cannot be fulfilled. You know so the final solution as far as, you know, these vaccines are concerned is the subjugation of the human race. So that is why that figure will appear and it will appear in a number of cases. We'll see it, so don't imagine a little horned devil, you know, being stamped on your hand or being given to on an identity card. It is the number. We could also say it's like a microchip, and who knows what coding is placed in microchips, so we should understand that this coding of number will appear in a range of evilly created products certainly designed to bring about the fulfillment of a prophecy that this not insubstantial group on the Earth hold dear and believe that they can bring it about, but they have to follow this pattern, so that's exactly what that is. Thank you.

RP: Okay thank you. Elaine, I'm not sure which country she's from, has said Simon I originally questioned Boris Johnson's Covid-19 diagnosis and then recently I've been seeing information online that he has been replaced. The author of these posts has shown pictures of the two Boris's side by side with computer-generated measurements to show that their faces are in fact different, the same with the Queen. Your opinion is always valued and appreciated.

SP: Well thank you for wanting to hear my opinion. We had this debate some while ago with the President Putin. People have meticulously taken measurements of his ear and his nose and his eyes and all the rest of it, and half the alternative industry were generating the possibility or the belief that he was a clone. I was able, along with others, to actually say no, these are body doubles. You know it's not a clone. These are body doubles. All, or most leaders have body doubles in times of emergency. That's not the case in my opinion with the Prime Minister of Britain. I don't believe that he's a clone. I think that as part of the treatment that he's been on, he's been on steroids, and that has as I know from, you know, other people that I've known while they've been taking them, that of course it makes your face fatter. It makes your body fatter to a certain extent Elvis Presley, although he was on lithium, did take steroids, and a number of, you know, bodybuilders and others do. It actually makes you fatter, so um I'm sure that a number of people have spent many hours with software measuring and looking and checking. The evidence that I have been given, not in relation to this question because I didn't know it was coming, but in relation to a number of world leaders that we looked up maybe back in February, was simply that things were happening and changing and they either had body doubles. In terms of Boris Johnson then he's literally, he looks absolutely exhausted. That is not because he's a clone. It's because he's had the virus. He was very close to death and he looks exactly as you would do if you were close to death, totally exhausted, and he has been pumped full of drugs. That's just the way it is, so no, he's not a clone to my knowledge. He's not a robot or anything like that. It's just a man who came close to death through the virus, and you know, as a leader, a world leader, there's no real time to rest, you know, you have to put the physical body back into action before it was ready, and so what you're seeing is a person, in my opinion, quite exhausted, and physically his body has changed because of the drugs he's taken. However, it is a good question, because there are clones of people and there are body doubles of people, but my information is that the two people that you will not see cloned are President Trump and Boris Johnson. Thank you.

RP: Okay thank you. Mandy from Ireland asks why is St. George Slaying the Dragon on the 5G Bioshield sticks? Are dragons good? Is the Dragon Rider someone who embodies authentic energy, and are there bad dragons that then needed slaying, and was St. George bad and slaying good dragons, or good and slaying bad dragons? Basically, wanting to know about George and the Dragon.

SP: Yeah thank you. That's a fair enough question isn't it. My grandfather, who turned down a knighthood, you know, was quite involved in quite a few bits and pieces like this, because the Order of Saint George and the Order of the Knight of the Garter, they all have the symbology quite linked in. I know it's very very popular and it's very, you know, easy to criticize any organization that seems to be, you know, in authority. In fact, if anybody is seen to be standing up for anyone in authority, then you know, they are immediately labeled a bad guy. The reality is that a lot of these secret organizations have good people in them. Don't tell me that you walk into a bank and the people that you meet in the bank are all evil. That's not true at all is it, and I've often joked and said, you know, there's as many bad people selling secondhand motor vehicles as there are selling insurance or bonds or stocks. It's just that there's far more opportunity to break the law in the bank than there is, believe it or not, selling a secondhand motorcar. People in the bank won't like that but it's a fact isn't it, and so the good elements within these secret societies that's the black and white kept calling the good elements in these secret societies (that's the black and white cat calling) the good elements in these secret societies wanted to try to put across the image of the reptile, a reptilian, which is the true reptilian being defeated by humanity, so St. George as the knight in shining armor Slaying the Dragon is a story or a theme that goes right back through British history and others as well though their symbology is slightly different, and it's literally the point of humanity over the Reptilians, so it's not the dragon. The dragon isn't representing a dragon. It's representing the Reptilian that lives underground in bases or caverns, and so St. George is the strength, the consciousness of humanity defeating it, so these secret societies, these secret organizations who were not taken over by the Reptilian energy wanted to try to embody what they stood for by having this symbol. Are there good Reptilians? Yes of course there are that's good in everything, but it's quite a small select group shall we say. The vast majority of our Reptilian beings still stay true to their pattern, still stay true to their that plan, so that is what it was meant, and when on the Bioshield, and I was asked my opinion, which was nice because it's not my Bioshield. I don't own it, but it was nice that, you know, the organizers asked my opinion on it, said what do you feel about it, and I said well because, and the answer I've just given you guys, I'm happy with that, but you know, we do want our own logo, and hopefully, you know, nearly everybody now has received your free stick, those of you who got on the right deal with the Connecting Consciousness logo that Becky designed, so it's not that one is better than another, simply that if you're a member of Connecting Consciousness then why wouldn't you want our logo, but they both represent the same thing except obviously Becky's logo is the infinity symbol and which we thought was, you know, appropriate for Connecting Consciousness and the organizers of the Bioshield wanted the St. George Slaying a Reptilian as the human race slaying the 5G monster, so I hope that explains it for you. Thank you.

RP: And I just want to add as well that dragon energy is very powerful within the Earth and they say that ley lines have to do with dragon energy, so there is, there's a lot of symbolism where dragons are not evil but they're good.

SP: Yes, I mean I was more focusing on the fact that it wasn't representing a dragon, that, you know, this is representing the Reptilians. That's what it represents, but if you were to go separately, you know, then yes absolutely. Thank you.

RP: Okay thank you.

SP: All right thank you very much indeed, and let's see if we can get on to another question.

RP: Ok the next question is from Bruno in Germany who says I've had attacks from the jinn in the past. I could see them and they were literally sitting on my heart chakra voraciously trying to get in. About two weeks ago I was attacked from something I haven't seen yet. I woke up, couldn't move, and hardly breathe only with great effort. Over my heart region I saw something that looked like chaotic clue or flat energy bands about 20 centimeters in diameter [19:05][unintelligible]. They were nearly colorless. The only kind of color I could identify was something like a pale dirty brown, maybe a bit greenish. Do you have an idea of what that was? Thank you and Becky for all you do. Much love and gratitude, Bruno.

SP: Thank You Bruno. It's not a classic demonic attack. It's not a jinn in that sense of the word. This is slightly different. The attack is over the heart region. Demonic energy doesn't actually generally try to do that. It tries to access another part of your body because, you know, realistically the heart is not just an organ that, you know, pumps the blood. It is almost a brain. I know that sounds odd to many people, but it is associated with the good side, and so if you're being attacked there, it's not that someone's necessarily trying to get in. They wouldn't try and get in there, but bands that you've described are more about trying to contain or squeeze or crush, so we're not looking at a demonic attack in its true sense, which is a localized sometimes individualistic type of approach. You're looking at a more consorted planned attack, which means that you've obviously upset something in the nether regions shall we say, so you're not being attacked in an opportunistic way. You are not being attacked in a specific localized way to obtain access to your body. You're being attacked in a way that's going to try to stop you or reduce your ability to do the things that you want to do, so the answer for this will lie in your past. You need to look back and say who have you upset, and I mean it in terms of, you know, something evil or something... somebody evil, and you've not gone along with their plans or something's happened. So build up what's gone on there, and you know, what I could have done in the opening remarks was to talk about opening the books because I am now opening the books, so anyone who's just tuned in for the first three minutes of the updates and they're not interested in anything more than the updates, they'll miss out on this won't they, so you know, we are opening the books. Now you go on to the main website and book on, and what I suggest is that, you know, you see if you can get on and book because, you know, it's maybe something I can help you with, but certainly we need to know a bit about the past. So yep, okay books are open if you are interested and you do want to book and have a chat with me, then that's absolutely fine. Please go online and do that. Thank you.

RP: Okay thank you. Anna from New Zealand says is it possible that the so called Covid-19 was injected into people through flu vaccines in the past year or so? Has this through 5G and other possible means been a triggering event to stimulate what is already in the bodies of many people? I would like to know if everyone who got Covid-19 had a flu vaccine in the last year.

SP: Not to my knowledge no. It's, that's not, there's no connection there. You know you wouldn't go, I'm looking from the evil perspective. You wouldn't go to the trouble of injecting people and then doing a virus or something like that. They don't need to do that, you know, they're doing quite enough damage with the standard work that they're doing. You would find that a great deal of people who got the virus did not have a flu jab, so no, as far as, the information that I have received, there is no connection. We've had this debate about 5G, you know, it should be very clear what my view on 5G is, you know, it's evil, it's horrible. We don't want it. It should be banned, but I don't believe that if you sit in an office and press a button and switch 5G on, and you know, you bathe a particular street in 5G everybody in that street will get the virus. That's not what's happening. People are getting viruses because they're coming into contact with other people who have the virus. That is why so many nurses and doctors throughout the world are going down with this because they are the people treating and meeting those patients who are coming in with the virus. So it's not 5G that's causing it. It's a virus. How do you think the common cold works? The common cold is a virus. That's nothing to do with 5G. Someone's in the room sneezing and coughing, touching a piece of furniture and then an unwitting person goes in. They will catch that virus. The common cold is a virus. Thank you. Next question.

RP: Okay thank you. This is from Isma in Glastonbury, England.

SP: Yeah.

RP: A question for Simon and the group because of course these questions are asked on the questions for Simon...

SP: On MeWePRO.

RP: Right on MeWePRO, and it's really well looked at thread and a lot of people comment on each other's questions and help with answers as well.

SP: Good.

RP: So it's quite good. So Isma has written like most of us I have read the news that Boris Johnson wants to vaccinate us all. Perhaps this is due to his own experiences and the highest death toll in Europe and perhaps other not-so-nice reasons. However, the question I have is this. Dear Simon, you mentioned if I am NOT wrong in one of your updates that in Italy as well as Iran there was a different strain of this virus, and that there was a reason for that as well, so did we have a different strain as well which killed more people than in other countries? Thank you for all you do.

SP: Two questions. I'll take the last one first. Absolutely. We got the worst strain unfortunately. That's why the death rate was pushing 30,000 in Britain now. We've got the worse part of it. The question about Boris Johnson is a good question. When you're a world leader you have two choices. I think you have two choices. You have a choice to be good or the choice to be not-so-good, bad. So what do a lot of people do is they fudge it. They go down the middle. They're neither good nor bad. They try to be down the middle, but that doesn't work in the long term because both sides will turn on you, so you actually have to have a base. You have to have a position and you have to stay to it. The problem in the world that we exist is that the establishment, which is everything from universities and schools, to your newspapers, to just the general consensus in the street, is that a man or a woman in a white coat knows much more than you do, and therefore we must defer to these people, and if you don't, then you know, you could possibly be sued. So a prime minister or a leader of a country is in a difficult position because either he'd do what I would do, which is come out and just change everything, or he keeps the status quo, and he says well yeah we've got this medical advice and we need to go with the medical advice. You see if you don't follow the medical advice under the current situation, then anybody could sue you if their relative died, because as the world leader, they could argue that you did not take sufficient action to protect your own people. Regardless of whether the vaccine is good or bad, that's how it stands, and the reality of course is that a leader must be seen to be following the advice of his or her medical professionals, because we're still in this very primitive mindset that says that if you do so many years in the university studying medicine and you get the huge privilege of wearing a white coat, and I'm not being disrespectful, it's just the fact that that's the way it is, therefore, you have to be listened to, and that's the situation, so what can Boris Johnson do? Boris isn't going to do what I would do, which is turn around and say well actually no, we're not going to do that, and you know, take it on the chin. What he will say is, what he is saying is well we'll have a vaccine.

Now I did make a statement earlier, which I've put out on the website in a written format and I guess not everyone has a chance to see that. There's absolutely no coincidence that this law in Great Britain that's forcing or looking to force mandatory vaccines came out while Boris Johnson was not at the controls of the ship. Boris was in hospital, just come out actually. His partner was having a baby, and so that's when they slipped that piece of legislation in. That should tell us all we need to know, that he was not actually there when it happened, so he's been faced with this. Now I think personally he'll do what President Trump is gonna do, which is say that it is not mandatory, but is voluntary. There's no way that President Trump, as it stands, would sign an official order saying that this is mandatory. The difficulty with the U.S. is that you've got states and governors, so you might find California saying that you've got to have it, whereas you might have Texas saying no you don't have to have it, so that's very interesting and could create a huge legal battle between whether the president, the office of president can out rule, outweigh these states, and I think that's what's going to happen. Now if that happens you are going to have a multitude of people selling their properties in one state and moving into another state where it's not mandatory. I think in Great Britain the legislation is there to make it mandatory, but I think what Boris Johnson will do is say it's voluntary. Anybody who is not under the control of this evil Cabal and who knows the truth couldn't possibly make this mandatory. You couldn't possibly do that, but because we believe in people with white coats, maybe what we've got to say on the planet as it stands is it's voluntary. If you want it here it is, but you're not forced to take it. So I think that is the route that will be gone down in Great Britain. Now I wasn't joking when I said that if that wasn't the way and they were going to force it, then I don't want to be here. I would go because, you know, my concern is that that twenty men coming through the door can hold you down and can inject you, so I'd much rather just go, and go to somewhere that, you know, stuck two fingers up and said well we're not having that. So I think there's a big battle to be had here in this country and in many others. Unfortunately we small group, that's those of you who listen to me and listen to others, we're fighting for this huge mass of unawakened people, you know, this huge group of people that will do what they're told because somebody in a white coat says this is what you should do, and those small group of us who actually know the truth, we are having to fight not just for ourselves, but for them, and that's what's called service to others. It would be very easy just to say well to hell with you lot. You're so stupid you don't, you know, are aware of it, but that's to give up the battle.

You know there's a reason why the vast majority of people on this planet believe what they're told, and I was saying to Becky only the other day if it wasn't like that you couldn't sell boxes of breakfast cereal. You couldn't sell the latest iPhone. It's because humanity has been, not designed that's not the right word for this, but they've been programmed and conditioned so that they will believe what they're told providing what they're told comes through the approved channels. I'm not an approved channel, you know, neither is David Wilcock. We're not approve channels, so what happens is that we don't get, we don't reach the vast majority of the people we need to reach, so the approved channel comes on and it says what it says and people just obey it, you know, slavishly. That's the battle that we face, to try to actually win this argument. You can't force people, but we can just do our best, so let's see. I think when push comes to shove the British Prime Minister will not mandate it. I think it will be a voluntary thing and certainly in the U.S. unless individual Cabalistic Satanic governors in different states who are under orders, blackmailed or whatever it might be, force it through in their state. You know that's a recipe for a civil war. I'm not being light. I'm not joking. It is a recipe for a civil war. It's a very good question. Thank you.

RP: Okay thank you. The next question is from Jay from Canada who says I was looking at an interview that Kerry Cassidy did with Miles Johnson the other day and Miles made a remark that strikes me very strongly at around 13 minutes 20 he showed a rainbow drawing and said that in the town where he is people at a certain time go out and applaud. This is where we clap for the NHS at 8:00 o'clock on a Thursday evening. I was surprised by this account and I emailed my family in the USA, France, [33:48][?Sire], Guadeloupe, and Germany, and I received these answers. In Paris people at 8:00 o'clock p.m. will start applauding. The rainbow is in Germany, Canada, and the UK. My question: does Simon have an idea for this very odd behavior? Thank you.

SP: Thank you, thank you. Becky who does a sterling job at trying to keep tabs on, you know, as much as we can did actually draw, separate to this question, some days ago this came up and Miles was showing pictures of rainbows. For those of you who haven't seen it, it's there somewhere, and Miles was talking about that the rainbow was inverted, or the colors were wrong on that particular rainbow. I only saw this section. I didn't see all of it. The point is that rainbows operate on a frequency of light. They are all of light, and so if you think of a bow, it's a literally a bow shape. That frequency of light which travels faster will go to the shortest distance and then that which says a little bit slower and so on and so on and so on and so on, so Becky you're the scientist. Is violet light the fastest and red light the slowest fastest?

RP: Yeah violet's the fastest and red's the slowest.

SP: Right.

RP: So red is on the top of the rainbow and then orange, yellow, green, blue, violet.

SP: Right, so that which travels the fastest will be, it'll be in order, in order fashion, and that's why rainbows are the way they are, simply because it's to do with the speed of that particular visible light. Okay remember there's lots of other lights which were not... our eyes can't be visible too but we see the pattern there, so that's the first point to mention there, and I think people need to do the research a little bit more carefully. What happened in Britain was that a natural outpouring, very... Britain's very big at spontaneous outpourings. A number of schoolchildren sent some drawings into the hospital. I think it was Barts where children are often kept. That's the number one children's hospital in Britain, and they did rainbows. Children draw rainbows, not just those who've gone through mind programming like My Little Pony or any of the others, just people, ordinary regular kids, will draw a rainbow and it reached a point some weeks ago that the hospital said we can't take any more of these pictures in. We're getting inundated with them. Here's an address for them. Now a lot of those drawings were rainbows, so you should do your research and find out whether that then was jumped on by the media. I know it was. Whether there was a nurse holding one of these pictures up which could have been a rainbow and that then could have been adopted by the NHS in Britain as the emblem to do it, and that's possible.

However your question is intriguing because of the clapping. Humans, we live on a world which is both physical, the energy physicality, and the energy which is not physical, so there's an energy that's not physical and that which is, and if you want to deflect humans from going down a particular path, it doesn't mean it's evil, you just want to deflect them or you want to give them something to do, then you have to give them physical energy to combine with non-physical energy, so their going out and clapping is part of a programmed reinforcement, no question of that, but we can't just immediately jump to evil conclusions. I don't believe it's loosh. I don't believe it's being collected by evil people. I think it's part of a mind control programming that says to people "Stay at home, Protect the NHS," this, that, and the other, and we will give you this physical ritual, because that's what it is, this physical ritual like going to church or doing anything else that will seal you in to this energy agreement that we are trying to create. So it could be for the best reasons but that's very primitive, but then most of humans are very primitive, and that's exactly right. So there is a concerted effort across Europe to get people to do, go into a ritual which makes it easier for the government then to have its wishes followed, so the rainbow which has many symbols both in programming, but both in, you know, the lesbian and gay movement and has done for many years. I'm not so convinced of the rainbow. I'm not so convinced of its colors or anything. I think that's just something that children will come too, but I think it is the act of physically clapping in Great Britain at 8:00 p.m. on a Thursday as part of that ritual. I don't do it. Now I don't do it not because I don't care about the NHS, not because I'm ungrateful. Every podcast I've done, everything I've done when I've talked about it, I've stood up for the medical profession, particularly the nurses on the front line, the ambulance drivers, the paramedics, the staff cleaning hospitals, all of those people delivering supplies. I've got members of Connecting Consciousness who are driving lorries all hours of the night with medical supplies where those hospitals who have got those virus patients, and you know, I've got two members of Connecting Consciousness who, you know, they shouldn't, but they do. They write to me and they share their information. That's why I'm very cautious and don't make it difficult for them, but they tell me which hospitals they go to. They tell me what supplies they're dropping off. They tell me where the military are in position, you know, so it's a very interesting situation and we shouldn't be surprised that those people who can manipulate vast numbers of people are there involved, so it's a very good question. Thank you.

RP: Okay, thank you. Kimberly from the USA says regarding the alleged indictments, I believe the number is quite large now, perhaps 80,000? Do you have any Intel whether these really exist and are they actually being acted upon? Thanks and blessings and gratitude to you and Becky.

SP: They are real. They certainly are real and some of them are being acted upon. What's my take on it? I think that they were used as a Sword of Damocles. Don't worry I'm not going to go into long, you know, Greek tragedy or the gods of Greece, but the reality here is that if you are holding something like many thousands of, you know, sealed indictments, then it acts as a block or a check against the other side becoming overly excitable. However, when the virus was released I did say this. All bets were off, and what we have seen are a number of these indictments being opened, and those of you who have been very kind and have listened to me over the years know that I got reasonably upset because these things were being opened in private and were being actioned in private, and in the end I got so somewhat annoyed by it that I had to speak to somebody to get some clarity as to why this was occurring, and the message I got I have shared with, you know, you guys on the several podcasts, that basically that if the truth came out in an unorganized manner, it could absolutely destroy the United States of America. You could say well isn't the U.S. being destroyed now? No it's not. This is a managed financial situation, but if you were to turn round and say X, Y and Zed, the situation is that the media, the vast majority of the media would immediately turn against it and say that the president of the United States was attempting a coup and was trying to take over, so a lot of these indictments that have been opened are a very high-level, household names, and are being done on the quiet. That's why Jeffrey Epstein was removed from hospital because there was no way frankly either side wanted him testifying, because if the bad guys, had he testified, he would've um literally sent three quarters of America into a meltdown, but the good guys didn't want Jeffrey Epstein in a witness box speaking because then they can't do anything about it. What they wanted was the information from him that was not public so they could then use that to lever the bad guys or some of the bad guys, and to try and take out others and use it for action. The difficulty with democracy in the understood sense of the word is that everything's above board supposedly and open, and I've said this before that if you are—forget democracy at the moment—if you're a good person, you know, you find it very hard to kill people. If you're a bad person it's part of what you do. So if you were, I don't know, someone in the media and you don't just run a newspaper, you run a news channel, and you've been told that unless you blank out this type of news and you push this other sort of news, then your family will be murdered, and you know, very well that they'll do it, and that is why this is happening because you can't appeal to the good guys, because they don't believe that the good guys are strong enough to protect them. You know it's like the Mafia, saying to somebody I will get you, and the person thinks well police protection just won't work. Will you protect me in five years, in ten years, in fifteen years? So the only way we're going to get this is when certain of the key individuals are taken out quietly privately without any consequence and then a number of other people will have the confidence to come forward to the good side and being more helpful and more useful. Now that is happening. We are seeing that occur, so that's my answer to you. Thank you.

RP: Okay thank you. Carolyn from the USA says thank you for always being there for us. I have an odd question in the middle of everything going on right now I am partially focused on the return of Planet X. I am very much aware that the human species must save itself and there are no rescues from the mess we have created. However, Planet X is outside of our control. Recently there was a post on CC of a large mothership that was ostensibly photographed by the International Space Station. Whether this is true or not my question is given that we have no control over Planet X and the destruction it will cause here on Earth, is it actually possible that spaceships will come and remove us from the planet during this flyby? If this is a possibility then how would we be able to determine if the group coming to help us is benevolent and has our best interests at heart?

SP: It's a very good question, thank you. Any group that turns up and opens the doors and says come in is not to be trusted. Why would anybody want you off this planet except if they want it for themselves? Why would anybody go to the trouble of supporting the human race for millions of years? We've been here for a good few millions of years now, maybe only a pinprick, but from a human perspective we've been here a long time. Just to come along and take everybody off. That may well happen, but my advice is the same as it was ten years ago is you don't get on those spacecraft. You know, that is just a way of taking people off the planet and never bringing you back again. You'd never come back again. You'd never see it. You'd never come back here. You're right about we have to try and sort the problems out, but we are allowed to get help. We are getting some help but ultimately the choice must be human choice, the human consciousness choice. It's no good big brother or big sister coming in, and you know, doing it for us because we'll just be faced back with the same problem, and you don't learn if someone comes and does it for you. So the reality here is that we do have to sort this problem out. We have to find the truth and we should be very very very skeptical of anybody who turns up and says I tell you what it's going to be a bit hairy down there on the planet. Jump in. We'll go for a jolly ole spin, and when it's all done and nice, I'll bring you back again. No. Next question please.

RP: The next question is from Yohanna, our Argentina coordinator, who says Dear Simon, in your last podcast you mentioned that the moment to act against the Cabal has not yet arrived, but it's close. What do you mean exactly by acting and what can we do or what should we do apart from being strong-minded, unafraid, do meditation, and give our help and guidance to others who are awakening? Thank you for all your hard work and uplifting words.

SP: Thank you. Thank you for that. Well the last few words you ended on there is if everybody did that we wouldn't be in this mess. That's a fact, and so that's not a bad thing for people to aim for. I'll give you some more information though. It seems like an age ago, but a few weeks, days ago, I did an interview with Sacha Stone and I'd heard a little bit about situation in Hollywood and he'd heard a little bit, and so we just touched base on that publicly. We, you know, I said to him have you heard what I've heard, and he said yes but I'm not gonna say anything quite understandably, but that was interesting that we both heard that, and I put a post out on the website today saying that I've had three independent, independent of each other, sources saying that certain individuals are now being arrested, and I made the, not a joke, it was a serious comment with Sacha. I said yeah, I've had a story of cars turning up and the big Hollywood gates of the mansion, you know, some debate going on as they were trying to get the gates open, all the rest of it. The deal is that there are some household names who now are being taken to a police station. They spend about 40 minutes there, and then they're allowed to go back, but they have started the process, and these were indictments that were sealed and are open, and I have absolutely 100 percent confidence that the information I've received is accurate. There are a number of high-profile names, let me just say, in the entertainment industry. Let me just do a blanket label like that, who have been, some of them have voluntarily gone because it's in their best interest to do so. Some of them were literally half dragged, half not, but in all cases they only spent a very short period of time in there, this, these locations for the formal process to begin, and then for those people to be returned back home. So that is happening and I've always said, always said that, you know, it was a last resort for ordinary people to go out and do what they've got to do. We should be looking to the military. We should be looking to the good guys in positions of power to do it for us because they are human, most of them are, and you know, that's what they got to do, but if they don't then we have ourselves, and I made it very clear that if anybody tried to come to this door to try to vaccinate me, you know, that wouldn't go so well. So every individual who is self-aware, spiritual, conscious, knows the game, has to decide whether they're going to take anything lying down or whether they're going to go and do something about it. Now in the United States of America you are legally allowed to defend yourself with a firearm. Of course they're very clever in other countries and they took away people's guns. In Great Britain 300 years ago in Great Britain, 300 years ago, you could go out to town and you could buy whatever, and you could have a sword. It was perfectly legal in Britain for you to carry a sword if you were a gentlemen, and then when the laws were done away with the gentleman would have a stick to protect himself with, and then that changed and it became a walking stick, so even if a person didn't actually have any problem walking, they'd have a very expensive shiny stick, but this was a throwback to the days when you could carry a sword. So in Great Britain we've never really carried a gun, but we carried a sword, so there are a number of countries where the individual's rights have been very cleverly taken away. In the United States because of the Second Amendment that's not the case, although a number of very left-leaning states have sought to push as far as they can to take away people's rights to hold a gun, and the reality is here that if in Great Britain people feel that their lives are in danger, the lives of their children or their families are in danger, they will do something about it, and the time is not yet come because we've not reached the crisis. You've asked when the crisis is. It very largely depends on who wins the election in November the 3rd in the United States of America. Let me make it clear from myself that it doesn't matter about the Democratic choice of president which is Joe Biden. It really doesn't matter. I know that he's mentally not well. I know that he's got what would the doctors call it, Alzheimer's or any of the degenerative diseases that happen to some people when they get, you know, a bit older. I know he's got that and so do the elite. What we're looking for is who is the running mate? Who's the VP to be the vice president, because God help us. God help me, anyone else, if Joe Biden was to be elected as the president of the United States, I can tell you within six months he would be certified as not mentally capable and whoever's the vice president would be moved in, so we're looking to see who the running mate for the Democrats is, because that person will be absolutely under the control of the Cabal, a total place man or woman of the cabal and that's their plan to get Biden elected, retire him after six months on mental grounds, put the vice president in and pick up where they left on. So the question that you've asked is frankly it depends on November the 3rd, because that's the crucial point. While Trump is still holding the position there, then this moment of choice has been kicked down the road. Obviously presidents can only do two terms of office, but you know, we have to see. We've got this election on November 3rd. That'll be not just interesting or incredibly interesting, it'll be vital from a human point of view to see who wins that.

Now I'm gonna just do my quick thank-you's for people. Those of you who, you know, aren't familiar with my show, I call it a show, my updates, you might be surprised that I actually read out a list of names who very kindly donated to me, and to Connecting Consciousness. I know most people don't do that. It's just a British thing maybe, so I want to thank Margaret, Darquis, Consultancy, Mary and David, Susan, Andrew, Dara, Alicia, Andy, Jeff, AH Oohon, Oliver, Christine, Uma, Mary Ann, Adele, Tunechi, Howard, Joanne, Manuel, Carol, Silver Sun, Abigail, Jean-Louis, Brian, Greeta, Martin, Michael, Charlie, getting there Bernhard, and Drumset of course, Leif, Paul, Amanda, Teresa, Martin, Ivana or [E vana], I beg your pardon, and Valerie. Now there were others but you won't be surprised to know that both the YouTube is being interfered with and also other electronic aspects, so there were others of you who very kindly donated and I'm sorry if I wasn't able to read your name out, you know, but I am thanking you publicly now. All right next question please.

RP: Okay we did have a lot or we have recently had a lot of questions about vaccinations, so I'm just gonna add a couple more that are together, so Trudy from South of England and Sandra from Germany. Trudy says my question is as Boris is promoting vaccines does this mean that the black hats have won him over and will mandatory vaccines becoming or can we do something on an active level to stop them? Sandra's saying having the same issue here in Germany, mandatory vaccinations might be the law in Germany as of May the 15th if we do not find a way to prevent this.

SP: Okay well this is proof that, you know, I don't have access to the questions beforehand because I've answered that already.

RP: Yeah.

SP: But that isn't to dismiss the two people who've written in on behalf of many others as it were, that the point here is that if it becomes mandatory there is going to be a resistance to it, physical resistance. I've absolutely no doubt about that and we will just see who blinks first. Thank you.

RP: Rachel from London in the UK says I'm deeply appreciative of the benefits Becky and Simon are giving all of us spending so much of your time with little recompense to inform us of what is really going on. Is it possible for you to inform us of how successful the white hats have been? Sadly I read on your blog that Canadian military helicopter has been reported missing and read up later that tragically six crew members lost their lives, hoping that the white hat heroes have not borne with too many losses. Have they caught many black hats and do you have any organizations or names that the white hats have neutralized? Thank you.

SP: Thank you very much indeed. No, I can't share that with you publicly, but there are a small number of organizations which have had the spotlight on them. It's less about taking out individuals and more about taking apart structures. If you have a large organization and within it is a Cabalistic entity, I don't mean an alien entity. I'm talking in the 3d term here of a process. Let's say for instance we have an organization. Let's make anything up. It doesn't matter, and you want to promote the Cabal. What will happen is people will apply for jobs to you. You look at them and you will only ensure that those people who are coming from a Cabalistic line are getting those jobs and being put in. Now it doesn't mean the whole organization is evil. It means that that group within that, so that's the group that needs to be stopped, and the mechanism that allows them to do that undone. You take a situation such as a bank, a very large multibank. Well the whole system is that way inclined, so it's not just one pillar holding up the roof, it's the whole damn roof, and the whole of the pillar. So that's why those organizations are a completely different ballgame, but in most organizations, it is run by decent people, good people, and there's this one arm shall we say, one pillar, which is corrupt. So what the good guys have been concentrating on is a limited number of operations, both in the United States and Italy, and two in United Kingdom where they have taken down or dismantled structures. Again I don't want you to think about a building that's been blown up above ground, but a structure of organization that has been taken down. In terms of children being released, this was because there are many many people in the good group who can't really be motivated to tackle a particular, I don't know, organization, but can be motivated to free children, so there are certain aspects that the resources could be thrown at. There are certain aspects that the good guys were prepared to go to the very edge on, and children in underground bases is one of those aspects that good guys would go to the very end of the road for regardless of what comes after it, but for the vast majority of other Cabalistic operations, it's much more of a tentatively see this and see that. Now that's still a lot better than we were five years ago, so it's a lot more improved, but again please be very careful. There a number of commentators that I'm not gonna mention any names obviously, who were, you know, the same old thing every time, that this has happened and that's happened, and you know, it's the same names or organizations which for the last five years according to these individuals who have been taken down. We can't keep taking the same thing down. It's either taken down or it's not, and the reality is that the Cabal is still operating. Of course it is. It's still operating, but it's edges where it's been pushing further into the psyche of humanity, that's been pushed out or drawn out.

Sacha Stone used some very interesting terms and he talked about the claws being declipped or declawed or something, but still left the teeth of the monster, and those of us who have some experience of how these rather nasty people are, that struck me as a very good analogy, that the reach of this creature has been quite successfully blocked, stopped, or pushed back, but the entity itself still exists in its lair, so that's the best answer I can give you. Thank you. It's a good question.

RP: Thank you. Michelle from South Africa has two questions. Hi Simon, thank you for all you do. Simon you always used to say you would never fly on a plane. Has that changed since you mentioned traveling to the USA, and secondly can you give us an idea of how developing countries like India and South Africa and Brazil fit into the Illuminati and Cabal structures and control?

SP: Okay we'll take the last one first because that's easy to answer. Any emerging economy is fought over. India is the new China in the sense that it has a massive population base, very poor generally, standard of living, wages are very low, people don't expect a great deal, absolutely ideal to set up factories and get stuff turned out. So both sides, or all sides would want to dominate India. Now what's interesting is that unlike China in the early days and Hong Kong and many of these other countries, Taiwan, India began to set its stall out as to what it would and what it wouldn't take on, which means that India because of its situation with Pakistan politically has always played to the West, unlike some of the other countries which were very isolationist, and so what we can see is that India is striking deals with a different sides, so Russia will be interested. America will be interested. China will be interested and Great Britain will be interested, and what you'll find in India's case is that India might buy weapons systems from Great Britain, but it might buy oil from Russia, or it will do this, so it's getting to play. It won't align itself in one particular political camp. However what I will say is that the Indian Prime Minister and President Donald Trump have an excellent working relationship, and thank goodness for that, because I can remember General Zia across the road there and the situation there with Obama who was then the president, and how that connection between Pakistan and the United States sidelined India, and often it looked like war was quite likely, so thank goodness that we now have the office of President on very good terms with Modi, who is the Prime Minister of India. Thank goodness that India and America have very good terms because these are two natural allies. That's my opinion anyway.

All right so move on to the next question. Those of you who have listened to me and again thank you for being very kind and listening, and I mean that you know, you don't have to listen... will have known quite obviously that I don't like flying, and I often talked about that because people would say to me come out to America or Australia and a conference, and people would say look we'll arrange it, we'll pay for the flight. You come out and you do two or three days, you can speak at my conference, and you can do this, do that, and it would have been lovely, but I just couldn't bring myself to be on an airplane, and I used to do things by Skype. It's not the same, but you know, it's what I could offer, and then suddenly I started talking about ooh I could go to America. So what happened is that I did get offered a job. I got offered a job which I considered very carefully and decided that, you know, I should do it, and that would mean going on airplane. Yes, I'd have to go on an airplane, and I want to take Connecting Consciousness to that next level. I want to be in a position to be able to fund healing centers. I want to have Connecting Consciousness as an organization that can fight for the rights of individuals, that can take on the establishment in whatever way that might be. You know, it's a natural progression. We started in the United Kingdom, Great Britain. We have built up a pretty solid, you know, coordinator network, and I would love to do that in the United States. I'd love to do it everywhere, but you know, I got an offer for a job in the U.S. What I will say is that you can put me right here Becky was it two weeks after that job offer we got another offer or was it three weeks?

RP: Yeah it was in...

SP: Was it two weeks or three weeks?

RP: ...three weeks.

SP: Two to three weeks, okay.

RP: Yeah.

SP: So after that job offer which I verbally accepted, two to three weeks later I got offered another job and they made me an offer that I couldn't refuse, and I was offered a job, I won't go into the details, but I was offered a job to go to Washington D.C., and I looked at that and I thought absolutely not, you know, so it was very interesting that I got a job offer that you could consider quite clearly a hundred percent to be a very truthful, a very good honest background, a very good honest offer, which would do good for Connecting Consciousness and then when somebody else got wind of that a counteroffer coming in which would have been completely the opposite. So you know, just trying to muddy the waters, spoil it all up, and so we called out that second job offer. We called it out and that disappeared very quickly because we'd, you know, we'd seen who was behind it and what it was. So yeah, I will get on an airplane because I have to put the organization first. I have to put my own fears of flying, and they are genuine. I have to put those behind me because my belief for what I want to create with Connecting Consciousness I can't afford my own frailties to stop the development of what I want, service to others. I want to serve other people. I want to do it and by being a scaredy cat and not wanting to get on an airplane, it just won't work will it? So yep, that's the plan obviously with the virus and no airplanes flying all plans are put back. You know, when the time comes then of course I will announce that, and you know, we'll just take it from there. Thank you.

RP: Thank you. Louise from Quebec in Canada says Hello Simon and Becky, I really appreciate everything you do for us. My question is as follows: If we all meditate on a specific goal such as preventing 5G from working can a fairly large group reverse the effect of 5G? Mainly I dream, but it costs us nothing to try if we have a chance.

SP: Okay.

RP: Love and light to you both.

SP: Thank you. Thank you. I don't believe in dreaming. I believe in making it reality and that's what you're saying to me, which is really good. The difficulty we've got with 5G is a combination and physical energy and artificial intelligence and it has a massive amount of psychic power behind it. It is wrong to take on something of that magnitude. I don't mean magnitude in terms of its power. I mean in terms of the way it has infiltrated into the human psyche, the way... it's like a tree. A tree is a good thing, but I'm trying to just show that the roots going out. If you meditate to try to do that you are taking it on and it's like taking on Orion energy, you know, the Orion Cube. If you try and force your way into an Orion Cube it just absorbs the energy and plays it back, and that was nicely demonstrated in about 1966 with the Star Trek, one of the Star Trek, the original Star Trek shows which didn't perhaps use the word Orion, but they were using that principle. So when we meditate we should meditate on a more of a... like a judo player. When somebody comes at them, they don't try and necessarily block it. There are other forms of martial arts which block, but they try to use the energy of the attacker to, you know, get that person out of the way, and so I think in our case with the meditations we would not want to take something on head-on. We would actually want to take on smaller chunks of the issue. We will be doing some more meditations absolutely, but I don't want people taking something on head-on because you put yourselves up for target, and I have seen too many other groups who uncontrollably have gone off and done that, and I've seen the price they've paid for it, and I always said that, you know, we wouldn't do that. We would do meditations. We would try and bring change. The point with the Hadron Collider was that although it was a massive huge machine weighing billions of tons, talking energy wise, it hadn't hooked into the human psyche in the same way that 5G is attempting to do. So it's actually easier to do that, because also the Hadron Collider was an electronic/mechanical device. 5G is nonmechanical generally speaking. It's an electronic device, so it's harder for us to work on it, but we're getting into realms I don't want to go into, but we will have meditations. They will be useful, and I'll certainly see to it to do that. Thank you.

RP: Thank you. Patricia from the USA says Dear Simon and Becky, thank you for everything you do for us. What is the difference in intent between the Earth Alliance and the Federation?

SP: Well the question, thank you, thank you. The question is the intent. That's an interesting question. Perhaps I'll just start a little bit that the Earth Alliance is a Federation that has human representatives to it. It was a group that was formed predominantly of human, human-type beings to protect and work with the Earth and to be more involved, so there's an awful lot of people who have a normal life by day and by nighttime they leave their physical body and they go out and do good stuff and they come back into their body. That's part of the Earth Alliance, and the Federation in that sense of the word, we want to think of Captain Kirk or Jean-Luc Picard. It's lovely that they use the word Federation, but we are looking at the true term, which is a group of planets who have connections to humanity and want to be involved but don't want to be involved directly, so they will often activate a third party. They will provide intelligence. They will provide cover. They will provide, you know, lots of other things, but they're not necessarily the troops on the ground. So there are two different ways. There's the overarching umbrella organization and then the smaller group which are hands on, on Earth. I hope that helps.

RP: Okay thank you. Lee from England says... he says no recent updates from Simon. Has he been told to keep quiet until May Day I wonder?

SP: Thank you. No. I think back over the ten years, the only time I think anyone ever tried to make me keep quiet was when they tried to kill me, and of course those of you who've watched and listened you know years ago what happened. I don't need to go over that. I mean I don't, people don't actually try to tell me that sort of thing. I offered regular podcasts because I foresaw a vacuum in the consciousness of humanity by this (coughs) excuse me, by this manipulated virus situation, and I realized that unless many of us got in and spoke and try to give the alternative view there was a real possibility of fear, concern, building up, and so for the early days I did a regular podcast and then humanity calmed down a bit and people got more in control, and so I just withdrew a bit. So that's what happened there. Thank you.

Right and before we have the next question there was a couple questions back and I just could have added about going to America. I just want to reassure people that I have not been offered a job with Gaia TV, and I'm not working for any of the other sort of small stores or shops that would mean that I couldn't do Connecting Consciousness and it's very important that I make that clear that the work that I've been offered would not prevent me doing the Connecting Consciousness work, far from it. It will actually increase the work I do, so please don't imagine that, you know, I'm gonna be doing a job and then not having the time to do what we need to do here, so it won't be a job in Walmart. Neither will it be a job with Gaia TV, so I just wanted to make that clear because people might think how you can juggle both things, but you know, it is all about Connecting Consciousness. Alright thanks Becky, and the next question.

RP: Okay next question is from Ben in Australia. He says what effect does alcohol have in terms of connecting to Source? For example, if you're a casual drinker will that harm your ability to stay connected to Source and to others? Does it affect your psychic skills?

SP: Interesting. Nobody's asked me that before. Overall it is negative in the sense of what it does. It releases a part of the control of the brain which you'd think would make you more able and psychic but it doesn't. It actually makes the brain work in a way that your psychic connection or your connection doesn't work in the same way. So drinking alcohol is negative for a spiritual life. Now you've used the word moderate drinking or what have you and that's absolutely fine, you know, we're talking about people who are addicted to the stuff. Taking drugs, there are some drugs which you can take which actually open your connection to Source or to other dimensions, but the real serious issue here is that not only do you let in good but you can let in evil. That's something that I cannot say enough, that if you take down your defenses, your natural defenses because you want to have more of an experience, then be prepared to have experiences from both sides, and a number of my clients over the last ten years have had life-changing effects both from the good because they got that, but also from the bad, life-changing effects that were negative. So if you are going to experiment in any way you must practice your defensive measures before you do it. There's absolutely no point in being an open book. You know there are these people that say oh I don't want to live in fear, you know, I'm not gonna live in fear. I'll just do this. I'll do that. If you haven't been to Magic School, if you haven't reached the spiritual position, if you haven't done any of this stuff, then you are going to be hit sometimes occasionally by the most awful unimaginable set of circumstances if this evil force decides to turn on you, so please don't be an open book. Be secure. Do everything you can and then go and experiment, all right? Too many people who come to me, did it the other way around, and then it's a very difficult job to try and do anything to bring them back, bring them around. So yes, you want your connections but you must ensure not only are you able to discern what's good and bad, and remember that 90 percent of the bad attacks pretend to be good, you know, they don't come in and say I'm the devil, or they'll come in and say I'm, you know, this... I'm Archangel Michael, or I'm this, I'm that, because they don't have any conscious themselves like that, they'll just come in and do anything they need to do to try to get at you. So, you know, I'm making a point of this. It is very important. Taking drugs, certain drugs, taking certain alcohol allows these entities to attack you, and they will come in and they will have a go. There's no coincidence that in Great Britain over the last, I don't know, 300–400 years, there's an old wives' tale. There's an old wives' saying which is called the devil drink, you know, and that is because people would see somebody change. Their eyes would glaze over or go black. They'd had a lot to drink and suddenly they would be acting in a way that wasn't like them. It wasn't the drink. It was an evil entity had entered them using the fact that their normal discerning capabilities have been switched off through either drink or drugs, and so they were doing that, and what these evil things will do, the first thing they'll do is tell you to kill yourself. That's the very first thing they'll do, so you know, you've got something bad because it's trying to get you to do that. I'm not advocating you don't experiment. I'm advocating that you'd make a serious attempt to learn how to protect yourself first. Thank you.

RP: Thank you that was a popular question actually.

SP: Okay.

RP: Johanna from Argentina has said what about pharmaceuticals and Sandra said what about cannabis so you have addressed those.

SP: Yeah, yeah, okay that's a specific. Cannabis is a medicinal plant. That's why the pharmaceuticals don't want us to have it. I think used in the way that it should be used I don't think it's a problem at all. I think there are people that just are addicted to it and I absolutely know that just like any substance that's overused, then it can do you harm, so just because it's a natural plant that's banned by the system because it is a good plant, if you over do it, your own, not your energy self, but your physical self can't cope with it. You know, humanity for thousands of years now has been artificially separated from the truth, from good things, and you know, if you suddenly have a load of good things you will not necessarily cope with it very well. You have to do it gradually. So yeah thank you, and I'm glad people are finding that an interesting question.

RP: Okay the last question today because I think we've done a good hour.

SP: Okay that's good.

RP: This is from Sandra in Scotland who says that she says I recently moved into a new built flat which I had no choice over. It's a smart flat and just meters from my lounge is a smart street light with a 5G amplifier on top. I purchased the 5G Bioshield and I have had positive results.

SP: Good.

RP: But recently I have seen crystalline large spiders about the size of a dinner plate running across my bedroom wall. As soon as they're aware I've seen them they literally run invisibly through the wall and disappear.

SP: Right.

RP: I don't like the feeling of them and when meditating I'm told they're from AI.

SP: Right.

RP: What are those creatures and what are they doing or trying to do and does this have anything to do with being near a smart...

SP: Yes 5G, yes.

RP: Yeah.

SP: Great, good question, fantastic. Right, get your 5G Bioshield out of the USB port from the computer and get yourself a wall socket plug you know an ordinary plug that's got a USB connection to it, and the point is when we plug in our Bioshields into the computer it produces a limited range of protection. Now because there's no earthing in the true sense of the word, but with the wall sockets by law there has to be an earth wire, so when you plug your Bioshield into the wall you are getting a more powerful protection. What you've described to me I want you to leave this on all night. I don't know if you're doing that. Maybe you're just taking it out, turning it off, but I want you to leave it on and you would bring your plug wall plug with the USB connector and the Bioshield in it and plug it in to the wall socket in the bedroom that you're sleeping in. What you're describing to me is an entity, which is artificial intelligence and I would suggest that your 5G is running at a low level. If you are... it's a shame I can't talk to you, but let us, let's say, see if I'm right. These creatures look like ice crystals. Imagine lots and lots of, a lot like quartz crystals, because we... but ice, and the body and the arms are all made out of ice. You could sort of partially see through it, partially not. That is absolutely indicative of something at a frequency level of 5G operating with artificial intelligence. What are these things doing? They are spying. What you're seeing is the next generation of spies. Most people recount spider type creatures. This is the artificial intelligence that is projected through from another dimension. That is why it's black because all of the light from our reality like a black hole is being sucked through that spider. So if you're on the other end in the fourth dimension of that spider all you would see is the light wooshing out from it, but because you are reporting it not like that, and I'm telling you that it's sounds to me like it's ice or crystal, but it's not crystal, but an ice one. That means it's being created in your reality, so it's not being projected into your reality. It is forming. It is taking shape in your reality. That's why you need that Bioshield in there. So you are one of the very first to witness or at least to publicly talk about it, the next generation of spies through this creation of 5G which is designed to bring these creatures more into our world. Remember if they're black, they're being projected into your reality. If they are see-through or milky color or what-have-you, that's because they're taking shape in your reality. The Bioshield will do it but you need to plug it into the wall. The books are going to be open. I suggest if you are a little bit concerned you might want to book and have a chat with me.

All right listen that's the end of the questions. They were wonderful this time. The questions were really good. Thank you for the time, writing on MeWePRO of course Connecting Consciousness members always up there on the cutting edge, always on the debating side, always looking at those issues which aren't just important to them, but important to all of us. Thank you for taking the trouble. I'm sorry that we can only do a finite number, but it's fantastic, and I've got a lot of respect for everyone. Thanks ever so much, and thanks from Becky as well.

RP: Can I just add?

SP: Yeah of course.

RP: I just want to also add, sorry...

SP: I'm gonna push you out there.

RP: Yeah. Yeah, you've been writing so many questions that they're absolutely brilliant. I'm sorry that I've skipped and jumped through some. I've tried to pick out a variety of ones that are sort of very relevant to now, but we will go back and look at some of the ones that have been written over the past few weeks, which, you know, are equally relevant for weeks and sometime soon.

SP: Okay, well there you have it. So basically, if your question hasn't come up, then it could well do, and there's nothing stopping you adding in a month or so time if it doesn't look like it's coming up, then redo it, but the quality of questions is excellent, and thank you very much indeed, and you know, let's just all keep balance.

I said this to people, you know, just keep calm at the moment. It's not a joke. Keep balanced. Keep Earth. Keep grounded. Don't get wooshed away with all of the nonsense that's going on at the moment. There is a real battle coming and I need everybody to be as strong as they can. Be ready for that moment. Okay, take care. Bye-bye.

Transcribed by GSC May 13, 2020

Proofread by